

Jessica McNaughton

An experienced C-suite Executive with a strong background in governance, reporting, and Board management. With experience in Aviation, Finance, Technology, and Resources/Engineering, she brings a comprehensive understanding of highly regulated industries. Her notable competencies include Human Resources, Governance, Transformational Change, and Merger and Acquisition expertise. As the Founder and CEO of memoryKPR Technologies, she is working to connect the world through story, with their innovative technology solutions. Throughout her career, she has served on various Boards of Directors, actively contributing to HR committees, executive searches, and CEO transitions. With a solid track record of leadership, strategic decision-making, and management experience, Jessica is a valuable addition to any board.

In addition to their entrepreneurial success, Jessica has held executive or leadership positions at Concentra Bank, ISC, Viterro, Shell Canada, WestJet, and RBC Royal Bank. She has demonstrated exceptional leadership in managing organizational transitions, integrating acquired assets, and driving growth. Her expertise in various sectors and their ability to present and interact at the board level make her a well-rounded candidate for board membership. With a focus on strategic planning, talent management, and fostering an inclusive work environment, Jessica hopes to make a strong contribution to the success of an airport authority and its governance practices, for all the communities, businesses, and partners our airport serves.
